

Students at Frontier School created a display of Willow nominated books, encouraging students in the school to read the books and vote for their favourite book. They then used the display to create a poster promoting the Willow Awards.